

FOCH ON WAGON WHILE IN U.S.

WINS NATION, BUT YIELDS TO ITS HABITS

On Board Marshal Foch's Special Train, Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 28.—[By the Associated Press.]—Marshal Foch will observe the letter and spirit of the prohibition law while in the United States. While diplomatic precedent would permit him to bring wine and liquor into the country for his personal use, Dr. Paul André, his personal physician, declared tonight that the marshal intended to follow the American custom of taking only water with his meals. No wine nor other liquor is being carried in the marshal's luggage, the physician said.

Warren to THE TRIBUNE's correspond- ent. "represent the strongest financial and commercial interests in Japan. Many were educated in America and can be powerful influences for increasing commerce and building the foundations for more cordial relations between the two countries. I hope that the commercial leaders of America will understand that they are the real leaders of business life in Japan."

The delegation is far from being a propagandist body, and it really represents the desire of the business interests of Japan for a solution of the far eastern questions. They will seek to show that the real leaders of Japan are in hearty accord with the United States in the reduction of armaments and the clearing up of misunderstandings.

OPEN SESSIONS NOV. 12

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—[Special.]—The international conference on limitation of armament, in connection with which adjustments of Pacific and far eastern problems will be sought, will convene in Washington Saturday morning, Nov. 12, instead of Nov. 11, Armistice day, as originally planned.

Notice of the day's postponement because of the big official program for celebration of Armistice day in Washington was officially announced here today.

First Session to Be Public.

The opening session will be public. It will be called to order by Secretary Hughes, chairman of the American delegation and personal representative of the President, who invited the powers to the conference. President Harding will welcome the delegates as soon as Secretary Hughes finishes and the President's address probably will conclude the program for the day.

The opening session will be held in the Continental Memorial hall, which accommodates 1,400 people. Arrangements for admission of the public have not been definitely announced, but it is admitted by those in charge of arrangements that the prospect for the general public getting into the hall is a slight one.

300 Seats for the Press

After the delegates, their staffs and advisers have been taken care of, the committee places the press as next in importance, and they take the view that the public will have to depend upon the press for its share of participation in the proceedings. The press will occupy some 300 seats.

Tickets of admission will be issued also to the members of the cabinet, government officials, members of the senate and the house, and members of the diplomatic corps. There will be little room for any one else.

SCHOOL BOARD ASKED TO RAISE P. OF TEACHERS

A plea to the board of education to grant teachers an increase in salary was made yesterday by Carl A. Hoffmann, president of the Chicago Teachers' League.

He advocated a salary basis which would induce the teachers to enter the profession here.

This plea was made in a petition and was referred to the finance committee.

UNDERLYING ALL FAR EAST ISSUES IS DEMOCRACY

Will Arms Parley Aid It or Crush It?

Seventh and final of a series of articles by Mr. Kinsley, who, during his trip in the Orient with Gen. Wood, had exceptional opportunities to study the Japanese attitude and purposes.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

If the Washington conference fails to result in a new and definite arrangement in the Pacific area that will satisfy Japan, America, and Great Britain, and we drift nearer to war, the underlying economic situation will probably be overlooked and we will be called upon again to "make the world safe for democracy."

Mr. Wells in his famous Outline points out that the institutions and traditions of the United States are fundamentally different from those of European powers, who have scrambled for overseas markets and possessions. We have no aggressive policy, no body of experts, no organization of non-assimilable possessions. There cannot be a permanent subject people in the United States system. In the Philippines the United States is coming nearest to imperialism of the great power type that has kept Europe on the verge of war. Japan, he says, is developing the European type in the Pacific, and it is this conflict of systems—monarchy and subject rule against American democracy—that we are being drawn into.

Why Powers Are Uneasy

Democracy is lifting its head in the Orient. It is widening its base in the Philippines and that is why the powers are looking askance at our experiment there. It is causing uneasiness in Dutch Java, rebellion in India, and uprisings in Korea. In China there is a stirring of the sleeper. A visit to the amazing city of Canton shows the rapid spread of the democratic idea during the last ten years. Nine years ago it was sacrilege to propose building a tramway on the old wall. Today the wall is gone and broad highways have been cut through the city, the labor unions are active, and there is a spirit of growth and building—a spirit of the west—a million tiny hammers singing in the tower of the new city. There is a liberal element in Japan also, but we will not be dealing with it in the Washington conference. We will be playing chess with the men who put swords on the school teachers in Japanese colonies.

Old Order Rules in Japan

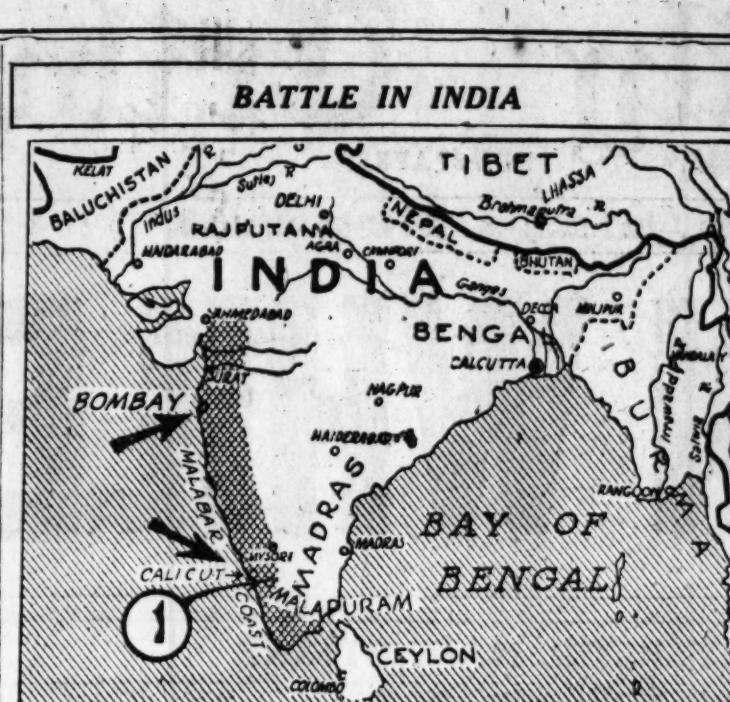

We are dealing with that substratum which will obey the military overlords who are building a brand new fleet of post-Jutland warships to impose their will in the Pacific. I saw a Japanese gentleman alight from a railroad train. Several women came to greet him bowed low to the ground. He stalked by, never noticing them.

The old order still prevails. Japan will do whatever the government decides, and the government is inviolable—a group of elder statesmen, who have a well laid out plan to which they keep year after year, and a dual diplomacy for east and west to forward that plan. The iron heel in the east, the smiling bow and suave insistence in the west.

Possible Outcome at Washington

Consideration of this deeper policy that will be foreshadowed at Washington leads to various predictions by political thinkers. China is not only a great reservoir of labor, but a potential military power, which, properly trained and officered, would be irresistible. Abandonment by the United States of further participation in far eastern affairs, the leaving of China to shift for herself, might conceivably lead to militarization of China by Japan and the eventual destruction of Europe by an Asiatic invasion.

If the new business diplomacy of the United States, a fair field and no favors, cannot set the pace across the Pacific, trouble commensurate with the vast stakes of the east will grow from the dark cloud that is now on the Pa-

1—Two hundred and forty-six Hindu rebels are reported to have been killed when a British detachment supported by artillery and armored cars came upon their band in the jungles near Malapuram, Malabar coast. The natives refused to surrender and a battle ensued.

The shaded area on the map shows the present seat of unrest in India. There have been numerous instances of violence recently. The revolt is centered about Bombay and Calcutta. The British announce they have the situation in hand.

WASHINGTON NEWS — IN BRIEF —

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 28.—The question of the soldiers' bonus has been revived and the senate faces a vote of the issue turned down at the request of President Harding. Senator Reed, having introduced an amendment to the tax bill to retain the excess profits tax and apply it to the bonus.

The senate today approved the 15 per cent flat tax on corporation earnings in the revenue bill, but it had a narrow escape when the Walsh graduated tax from 10 to 20 per cent missed adoption by the margin of one vote.

Official announcement was made today that the first session of the armament limitation conference will be held Saturday, Nov. 12, instead of Armistice day, owing to the full program of exercises here on Nov. 11.

President Harding told friends today he was satisfied that his appeal for political equality to the Negro had made a favorable impression on the thinking people of the south.

Dry in congress have formed a sort of "battalion of death" to insist on passing the bill to prohibit beer as a medicine, taking it up in the senate as soon as the tax bill is passed.

cific horizon, a storm involving us as it will involve the other industrial powers.

Japan seems to stand alone. There is wide distrust and suspicion of that country in the Orient. Her stubborn military policy has left her a heritage of hate. Recently the leaders in Japan have begun to realize the mistakes made toward China and now are trying to find a basis for action that will build up a new, amicable relationship between the two countries.

The Japanese are talking of a Monroe doctrine for Asia and a new alignment that will give them supreme control over the destiny of China. If England and America stand firm Japan can be satisfied and given her place in the sun, a place that belongs to her by right of organization, strength, achievement, but not one that will cast a shadow over the new world of democracy being born over there.

BRITISH LABOR TO STRIKE IF JAP TREATY IS SIGNED

Would Mean New World War, Union Head Says.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—[United News.]—British workers have determined to scrap the Anglo-Japanese alliance, which would lead to another world war—Robert Williams, president of the International Transport Workers' federation, said today in an exclusive interview.

If necessary, the council of action, which prevented the Anglo-Polish treaty against Russia will be reestablished, Mr. Williams said.

"Japan's imperialism is threatening to bring about a new world war," the transport leader declared.

"Workers in the four industrial worlds, transport, railways, mines, and metals, will meet at Amsterdam simultaneously with the Washington conference to take steps to prevent a new, impending world war."

PARIS, Oct. 28.—President Millerand received today Premier Briand and members of the French delegation to the Washington conference and gave them his benediction. The premier leaves by an ordinary boat train for Havre at 11 o'clock tomorrow and will embark on the Lafayette of the French line in the afternoon. He should reach New York the afternoon of Nov. 7.

Briand's policy as laid down in his speeches in parliament comprises two parts. First, as regards the Pacific, he wishes to act in the rôle of mediator between America and Japan. Second, on disarmament, he wishes to obtain international security for France in return for her reduction of armament.

Shantung Issue Hot

PEKING, Oct. 28.—Dr. Yen, the Chinese foreign secretary, has answered the demand of certain public bodies for an explanation of his alleged desire, expressed to Yukichi Obata, the Japanese minister, to enter into negotiations with regard to the Shantung controversy and of the statement that Chinese officials confidentially had sent to the Japanese government terms for a settlement of the issue. Mr. Yen denied the charge. He said the Chinese government would shortly issue a statement to the newspapers in an endeavor to clear the government of the charges.

FOREIGN NEWS — IN BRIEF —

TOKIO.—Invisible power of Japan, the money kings, will confer in Chicago with their chief, who will overtake them after he lands in Seattle Monday bearing a draft of the Japanese budget which will show that expenses for armament in the coming year threaten to crush Japan unless the Washington conference succeeds in reducing armament. They will guide official delegates.

LONDON.—President Williams of the International Transport Workers' federation announces that British workers have agreed to form a new council of strike action, like that which prevented the British-Polish alliance, if necessary to prevent London from forming a new alliance with Japan. World workers expected to decide likewise in meeting at Amsterdam on Nov. 11.

BETTER GET SICK AND PRESCRIBED FOR IN A HURRY!

Senate Anti-Beer Forces Plan to Kill Relief.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—[Special.]—Thirsty invalids had better get their beer prescriptions filled without delay. Medicinal beer will not last long if dry senate leaders successfully carry out plans they formulated today. An attempt is to be made to invoke the cloture rule in an effort to end the wet filibuster against the Campbell-Willie bill banning beer as medicinal. Senator Sterling, South Dakota, in charge of the anti-beer bill, heard a petition for the adoption of cloture if the wets continue the filibuster which has been blocking action on the measure for the last four months.

Says He Has Enough Votes.
After several hours' effort Mr. Sterling had obtained the signatures of thirty senators, although only sixteen are necessary to require the Vice President to put the motion to curtail debate. Nearly all the signers were radical drys, but there were several wets. It was reported that the bill might be brought to a vote. In order to adopt a cloture motion following the submission of the cloture petition a two-thirds vote of the senate is necessary. It was considered doubtful whether the drys would be able to muster such strength, although Senator Sterling expressed confidence that a cloture motion would receive the requisite votes.

Prohibition Commissioner Haynes, who returned to Washington this morning, insisted tonight that reports that John Kjelander has resigned as commissioner at Chicago, and that he was about to resign his own office because of differences with Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and the commissioner of internal revenue, Mr. Blair, were equally without foundation in fact.

START DRIVE

Prohibition is not yet, despite the eighteenth amendment, and all the various state prohibition measures correspond to the accumulating of capital for an industry. If the capital is not put to work nothing results.

These statements were made by E. J. Davis, Chicago district superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, yesterday afternoon at a nation-wide campaign launched by the league to cooperate with government officials in applying the letter to areas still moist and to arouse public sentiment so that the bootlegger will cease his trade.

Hold "Not Over" Services.
Tomorrow in Chicago churches "Not Over" services will be held. Pastors and Sunday school superintendents have been asked by the league to bring before their congregations and classes the fact that prohibition hasn't prohibited. For Mr. Davis said, many church members have not given the question any thought since the passing of the act and are not informed on the true state of affairs.

"The church is the logical place to arouse this sentiment," Mr. Davis said. "If the laws are not enforced, and there are signs of the liquor traffic and the saloon returning, the prestige of the church will suffer. They should be in it, in self-defense, if for no other motive."

Plan Big Drive.
The league intends to nominate "dry" legislative and congressional candidates at the April primaries; to compile the enforcement organizations in city, village, and community throughout the state; and to carry on an educational campaign emphasizing the patriotism and benefits of law enforcement.

A man and a woman in every city precinct and in every small community are to be appointed, Mr. Davis said. Several of these will meet to register and elect officers. These organizations will urge and assist officers of the community and county in the enforcement of the anti-saloon laws.

It was announced yesterday that the resignation of John Kjelander, local prohibition agent, which has been in the hands of Prohibition Commissioner Haynes in Washington for several days, is to take effect on Dec. 1. Mr. Kjelander said he hoped to get the affairs of the local office in shape by that time.

GRADUATED TAX CHIEF PROMOTES ON CORPORATION SERGEANT GRADY, EARNINGS LOST 'BEST POLICEMAN'

Senate Amendment Is Beaten, 33 to 32.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—[Special.]—Dissatisfaction with the proposed 15 per cent flat tax on corporation earnings almost led to the substitution of a graduated tax, with rates from 10 to 20 per cent, by the senate today. The 15 per cent flat tax finally was approved by a vote of 36 to 26, after the amendment of Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, Democrat, for a graduated tax had been defeated by the narrow margin of one vote. The vote on the Walsh amendment was 32 to 33, and on a second roll call, after it had been modified somewhat, it again met defeat by the same vote.

The charge made by Senator Walsh and admitted by the Republican leaders that the 15 per cent flat tax would mean an actual increase in the tax burdens of the corporations which have not been making large enough profits to be subject to the excess profits tax was responsible for the large vote in favor of the graduated tax.

Present Flat Tax 10 Per Cent.
The present flat tax on corporation earnings is 10 per cent, the excess profits tax, which is repealed by the pending bill, applying only on corporations with earnings in excess of 8 per cent of their invested capital.

Republicans voting with the Democrats for the graduated tax included Senators Borah, Idaho; Capper, Kansas; Cummins and Kenyon, Iowa; La Follette and Lenroot, Wisconsin; McNary, Oregon; Norbeck, South Dakota; Norris, Nebraska, and Townsend, Michigan. Senator Nelson, Minnesota, also voted for the Walsh amendment on the second roll call after amended to provide corporations making a profit of less than 8 per cent for the taxable calendar year should pay only 10 per cent.

What Amendment Provided.

The Walsh amendment provided for a tax of 10 per cent on earnings up to $100,000, 15 per cent on earnings between $100,000 and $300,000, and 20 per cent on earnings above $300,000. The provisions limit the tax on the tax on corporations with earnings of less than 8 per cent was intended to prevent the imposition of a higher tax in the case of corporations with a large capitalization when earnings of more than $100,000 might represent a profit of less than 8 per cent. This was objected to by Republican leaders on the ground that it would mean the determination of invested capital, which has been one of the chief objections to the excess profits tax.

Fix Beer and Wine Taxes.

Tonight the senate adopted without a record vote the amendment by Senator Wadsworth fixing taxes on beer and liquors, which was prepared after the government had issued the new regulations permitting the use of alcoholic beer as a medicine.

The tax rates in the amendment are 60 cents a gallon on beer, $1.20 a gallon on wine, and $6.40 a gallon on whiskey. As framed the amendment was said to be satisfactory to the industrial alcohol interests, which had been protesting against rebate provisions in the bill as it stood.

STILLMAN FIGHT OVER CHILDREN LEFT WITH COURT

New York, Oct. 28.—[Special.]—Objection to the appointment of either James A. Stillman, former president of the National City bank, or Mrs. Anne Urquhart Stillman as guardian of the property of their sons, James ("Bud") and Alexander, on the ground that Mr. Stillman was "unfit" and the latter "inexperienced" in the management, was made today by opposing counsel in the application for the appointment of such a guardian before Surrogate John P. Cohan.

John F. Brennan, chief counsel for Mrs. Stillman, also objected to the suggestion of Outbridge Horsey, of counsel for Mr. Stillman, that a trust company be appointed.

Surrogate Cohan reserved decision and directed the attorneys to file briefs and also to furnish him with a copy of Supreme Court Justice Morschauser's decision, rendered in Mr. Stillman's divorce proceedings, which permitted each of the Stillman children to choose the parent with which he wished to reside.

NEW CHIEF AT ELLIS ISLAND BEGINS CLEANUP

New York, Oct. 28.—[Special.]—A shakeup which affected practically the entire immigration staff on Ellis Island came yesterday as the first definite action of Robert E. Todd, who, on Monday, succeeded F. A. Wallis as immigration commissioner.

The rearrangement deals with about thirty heads of departments, inspectors, clerks, and interpreters, some of whom have been in the service for twenty years.

BRITAIN'S DEBT TO U. S. IS JUST $4,166,318,358

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
LONDON, Oct. 28.—Answering a question in the house of commons today, Hilton Young, the financial secretary to the treasury, stated that the capital amount of the United Kingdom's debt to the United States—excluding the postponed interest—is $4,166,318,358. There has been no reduction in the debt's capital during the last three months.

Red Stink Bombs Stop British Patriots' Rally

LONDON, Oct. 28.—[United News.]—A meeting tonight to stir up patriotism, organized by the British Empire union, broke up in an uproar and malodorous atmosphere, when Communists in the galleries shouted down the speakers and hurled evil-smelling bombs at the floor below. Lord Derby hardly had begun his principal address when the tumult started. The organizer, seizing the occasion to play "God Save the King," found himself drowned out by the throaty singing of "The Red Flag" by the gallery.

ENEMIES USING KARL'S BONER TO CRUSH HUNGARY

London Frowns on Little Entente Ultimatum.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
LONDON, Oct. 28.—Great Britain will not support the little entente in military measures against Hungary or in attempting to extort from Hungary the cost of its mobilization.

BY LARRY RUE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
BUDAPEST, Oct. 28, via Paris.—The Czechoslovakians, Austrians, and Serbians are stopping all dispatches from Budapest and are carrying on a violent anti-Hungarian campaign. American correspondents are helpless in trying to get out the truth. The Karlist attempt in Hungary is being used as an excuse to beat the Venice conference decision providing for a plebiscite in West Hungary, although every one here knows that the Horthy government sincerely frustrated the monarchist coup.

The little entente in an ultimatum to Hungary has demanded the expulsion of Karl from Hungary, the demobilization and disarmament of the army, the democratization of the government, and the turning over of Burgenland to Austria. One month was given for compliance with these demands.

The Serbs and Czechs are said to be continuing their mobilization against Hungary.

Go to See Karl.

BUDAPEST, Oct. 28.—[By A. P.]—British, French, and Italian military commissioners to Hungary visited the Benedictine Abbey at Thany yesterday, and later made official affidavits that former Emperor Karl and former Empress Zita are lodged there. The abbey is isolated by a cordon of troops.

Immaculately clad in the uniform of a Hungarian general, the former emperor today said:

"I was sure my people would offer resistance, so I gave orders to withdraw when the government troops opened fire. Nothing can persuade me to provoke civil war. I trust providence and the future will bring harmony between the Hungarian nation and its sovereign."

Hungarian aristocracy involved in the conspiracy to place Karl upon the Hungarian throne is now engaged in a bitter fight in the political arena. Small land owners and the land aristocracy are arrayed against each other in a conflict which is expected to result in stormy scenes in the national assembly in the next few days.

The peasants have won the first phase of the battle. Count Julius Andrássy, who is of close kinship to the Hapsburg dynasty, is in prison; Count Albert Apponyi is under surveillance, and a warrant has been issued for the arrest of Count Sztaydler, who is alleged to have turned over his command at Oedenburg to Karlist generals, following the arrival of the former emperor from Switzerland.

TENANTS THROW BATTLE GAUGE IN POLITICAL ARENA

The Chicago Tenants Protective association last night announced its intention of fighting "tooth and nail" every aspirant for political office whose record is not 100 per cent strong on the rental problem.

J. R. Patterson was appointed chairman of a committee to make an exhaustive survey of the political situation for the purpose of compiling lists of "desirable and undesirable candidates."

"And we'll throw 100,000 votes against those who have not a clear record on the rental question," Mr. Patterson said.

CECIL MENACES PREMIER'S EASY LONDON VICTORY

Cleverly Amends Resolution of Censure.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—[United News.]—Into the well oiled machinery with which Prime Minister Lloyd George expected to roll to a parliamentary victory on the Irish situation on Monday Lord Robert Cecil has thrown a wrench which may disrupt the prime minister's program and which at least will present him a delicate problem for solution before he finds himself free to go to America.

With the expectation of bringing about a coalition of those elements which, while opposed to the government's policies, favor a continuance of the Irish peace conference, Lord Robert has introduced an amendment to the original resolution of censure which virtually would kill the measure. His amendment reads:

"While deploring the policy—or want of policy—of the government in Ireland for the last three years, the house of commons is of the opinion that to break off the negotiations with the Sinn Fein at the present stage would only add to the dangers and difficulties of the situation."

Must Beat It.

Defeat by the government of the original Tory resolution, which utterly condemns the peace parley, is conceded. But Mr. Lloyd George must now also beat the Cecil amendment, which is apt to attract the less conservative elements.

Lord Robert is expected to rally many laborites, some liberals and many unionists. In the meantime, it is reliably reported that there will be no further sessions of the peace conference until after Monday. Lloyd George has no desire to continue the parley until he knows that he has the unqualified support of the commons.

WE CHALLENGE COMPARISON

TAKE STEPS TO AUDIT BOOKS OF CITY CONTROLLER

Aldermen Want a "Real"
Survey of Records.

After criticism of what was termed a "superficial audit" of the city controller's books, the council finance committee yesterday took the initial step to obtain a complete audit of these records. If it materializes it will be the first exhaustive audit in seven years. Chairman Richert was directed to ascertain the cost of a "real" audit.

Under the Lundin-Thompson regime these records, which deal with almost all the city's finances, have been audited yearly by the William E. Mason Jr. company at a cost of $1,400. Mr. Mason is a son of the late Congressman William E. Mason.

"This audit has been only superficial," declared Ald. Richert. "Yet each year the finance committee is asked to approve it as correct. I am not in favor of such loose methods."

With the city spending $60,000,000 a year, a real audit, though it cost $20,000 a year, would be an economy," Ald. Lyle declared.

Changes in Fire Department.

On recommendation of Business Manager Cullerton of the fire department, the committee ordered several changes in that department, including the following:

Creation of twenty-three new battalion chiefs, making fifty-six such positions.

Creation of twelve new battalion districts and reducing the number of companies in each battalion to an average of six instead of ten.

The change is made to permit each battalion chief on the day shift to spend eight hours inspecting building conditions. This was recommended by two investigating bodies after the explosion in the Singer-Schaffer building last spring, which caused six deaths.

"At present 95 per cent of the fires are caused by rubbish in basements and other conditions conducive to fire," Mr. Cullerton said.

Approve Site for Dump.

Other business transacted at the committee's first meeting following the three month vacation, included:

Approval of a three year lease on a dump at Kodie avenue and the sanitary canal for disposal of ashes and rubbish. It has a capacity of 250,000 cubic yards and will be used by southwest side wards.

Authorized the city administration to borrow not more than $7,000,000 from the city's trust funds to meet payroll for part of October and all of November and December, the money to be paid back out of tax moneys not yet turned over by the county.

destroyers going down the bay to formally welcome Marshal Foch.

When the marshal landed at the Battery he was greeted by Gen. Pershing. Together they headed a long procession up Broadway to the city hall, and together shared the most enthusiastic demonstration New York has ever given a visitor.

Gen. Foch, as he landed, gave out a greeting to America. He said:

"It is a very great satisfaction for me to come here and meet again my American brothers in arms."

"These soldiers, whom I had the honor to lead in 1915 on the battlefields of France, brave and gallant in the performance of the duties of war, I am now to have the deep pleasure to see displaying in the work of peace the same qualities which made their strength and glory throughout the war."

Tribute to the "Absent Ones."

"It is likewise a very great joy for me to visit them in their homes, where they received the inspiration and training which animated them so powerfully."

"But during my visit in the midst of the living my thoughts remain with the absent ones, the brave soldiers of your great country who gave their lives for our common cause."

"May all those who mourn their death be assured of my profound sympathy."

"Their sacrifice has not been in vain. It rests as the basis of peace of the world for which we are working in common today, inspired by the same sentiments which united us on the fields of battle."

The formalities of presenting the freedom of the city were at the city hall. The procession continued immediately to the Pennsylvania station, where the marshal boarded a fast train for Washington.

DEGREE FROM U. OF C.

Marshal Foch, who will visit University of Chicago on Nov. 5, probably will receive an honorary degree at the special convocation in Mandel hall. Ex-service men, federal board students, and especially those who served directly under the great warrior will play an important part in the elaborate program which is planned.

New York, Oct. 28.—Special.]—A 10-year-old French girl, Louise Brett, and her young mother, garbed in mourning, greeted Marshal Foch at the Battery landing before even Gen. Pershing could salute the allied armies' chief.

The child made a curtsy and handed the marshal half a dozen roses gathered from a little garden over in Jersey.

The marshal took her in his arms and kissed her several times.

The roses, it was learned later, are to be carefully pressed and, months from now, placed by the marshal on the grave of the child's father, a soldier of France.

FOLLOW KANSAS, SAYS ALLEN; END INDUSTRIAL WAR

Would Nationalize State
Labor Tribunal.

Henry J. Allen, governor of Kansas, last night tore a page out of the records of the industrial legislation of the Sunflower state and presented it to an audience of publishers and editors at Hotel La Salle as the remedy for industrial troubles of today.

"Industrial squabbles are the worst menace which this country faces today," said the governor. "Kansas faced the same situation two years ago and met it successfully with an industrial tribunal for the settlement of disputes between capital and labor. Such a tribunal placed on the statute books of the nation today would bring industrial peace."

Gov. Allen's address was given before 700 members and guests of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, which completed its eighth annual convention with a banquet.

Raps Radicals of Both Sides.

The fighting governor from Kansas, who received his militant training under Theodore Roosevelt, roundly scored the radicals both in capital and labor in his thirty minute speech, bringing his plea to a close with a rap at the congress which passed the Adamson act, declaring its passage marked the time of the lowest ebb of governmental regulation of industrial disputes.

"We are paying too many men today to do one man's work," he said. "We have been bound too long by the radical in the labor group, who is responsible for the theory under which labor works—namely, 'doing as little as you can for the most you can get.' That is the kind of radical leadership which has killed the goose that laid the golden egg."

"We have just passed through an industrial crisis which was settled temporarily by the railroad labor board Thursday. Of course, settlement of any strike is a good thing, but personally I would have been glad if the rail strike had materialized."

Would Have Welcomed Test.

"The question then would have been whether the government would rule or whether a class would rule, and I believe that there was enough Dutch courage in this congress to have passed legislation calling for an industrial tribunal."

"We could then sit and say to labor and to the employer, 'if you cannot settle your quarrels without bringing civil war on the helpless public, then this government will do it for you.'"

"The public must be protected. God save us from the interference of the radical leaders of both capital and labor. This country will never return to normalcy until their voices are silenced, nor until that day comes which calls for an honest day's work for an honest day's pay."

Col. Luke Lea, publisher of the Nashville Tennessean, in a ten minute talk declared that the war had blotted out the Mason-Dixon line. Today he said optimism and not pessimism was the dominant note of the south.

"MISSING" GIRL WITNESS DENIES SHE WAS BRIBED

Miss Jane Ritter, who, it was charged, was "sent out of town" to prevent the conviction of Hersche Miller and Samuel ("Nails") Morton, accused of the murder of two policemen, William Hennesey and James ("Plucks") Mulcahy, in the Pekin cafe Aug. 23, 1920, was found yesterday and taken to the state's attorney's office by detectives.

"I merely went up to Fox Lake for my health," she said. "I paid my own fare and was not sent away by any one. The fact is that, while I was in the cafe at the time of the shooting, I was not in condition to know what was going on in the place."

While fifty detectives from the prosecutor's office were searching for the other "missing" woman, Jack Drury, a newspaper reporter, was taken before the grand jury and later was charged with kidnapping Carter Harrison Hays, a Negro, several months ago and keeping him imprisoned in Hotel Sherman.

This action followed a statement in the Daily News, the newspaper that employed Drury, that there had been "fixing" in the state's attorney's office.

TWO LURKERS ARRESTED.

Louis Dymon, 17, 1455 Washburne avenue, said to be on parole for burglary, and Daniel Chesser, 23, were arrested early yesterday while lurking in a vestibule of a store at 1247 Roosevelt road.

PEGGY JOYCE IN N'YAWK; MAYBE
TO SETTLE CASE

But She'll Get $10,000
Monthly "or Die."

With the arrival of Peggy Joyce in New York yesterday came rumors that a possible settlement of her divorce case against Stanley Joyce was in the offing.

Mrs. Joyce, it was said, will hold conference with her attorneys in the next few days on an offer said to have come from her husband's counsel.

With "Peggy" on her trip from Europe came a new species of toy dog, nine trunksful of new clothes and another trunkload of love letters.

Customs Officials Suspicious.

The trunks came in for much close scrutiny by customs officials—who apparently had a hunch that perhaps some of the much-mooted valuable jewels, which her millionaire husband is said to have given her, were aboard.

"I was madly in love with my husband, and still respect him," she told interviewers. "But he has caused me much sorrow with the things he has said about me, and I shall never forgive him for that."

May Marry Again at 33.

"No marry again? Not for a good while—say, when I'm about 32 or 33. Then I'll want to get married and raise a family—children who will love me when I get old. Had Mr. Joyce and I had a child, he probably wouldn't be saying the things he has said about me."

"No woman should wait too long nor feel that all love is encased in a bank. If she does either, she will surely regret it."

"Do you think you could live on any less than the $10,000 a month alimony you have asked?" queried a newspaper man.

$10,000 Lowest Living for Her.

"No, I do not," she said. "Why should I? I might have got along on less at one time, but I can't now. I have lived at that rate because of my husband, and he must continue to support me as I have lived while his wife. I'll get that ten thousand a month or die in the attempt."

"My husband has made it so beastly rotten for me here in my own country that I find it really more pleasant living abroad at this time. But I love America better than any other country in the world."

NORWAY ELECTS
FIRST WOMAN TO STORTHING

CHRISTIANIA, Norway, Oct. 28.—[By the Associated Press.]—The general elections on Monday gave no party a clear majority, and it is impossible to predict which party or bloc will form the new cabinet for the new storting in February.

Out of the 150 seats, the conservatives, running on an anti-prohibition platform and against the government policy of maintaining wartime restrictions, secured fifty-six seats. The Communists, following the Moscow program, obtained twenty-nine seats, largely at the expense of the right wing Socialists.

One woman, Miss Karen Platon of Christiania, was elected.

ELECTION BOARD
SETS DATES FOR
CON CON VOTING

The dates for the special primary and election to fill two vacancies in the constitutional convention were announced yesterday by the election commissioners. The vacancies—in the Second and Twenty-seventh senatorial districts—were caused by the deaths of Michael F. Sullivan and Edwin J. Corcoran. The calendar follows:

Nov. 12—Last day to file primary petitions with the secretary of state.

Nov. 15—Last day to withdraw primary petitions.

Dec. 22—Primary election.

Jan. 23—Election.

There will be no registration for either the primary or the election and voters who have moved since March 15 may vote by affidavit.

APPLE-LAND

GLORIOUS in their flashing red skins, these wonderful apples are announcing their arrival in the markets today.

Your first bite into one will convince you. The crisp snowy flesh breaks clean. Every particle of it is saturated with a rich, sprightly-flavored juice. You will eat clear to the core with a relish that comes because of supreme enjoyment. And you won't be satisfied until you eat another—a Jim Hill Jonathan.

It is easy to understand why Jim Hill Apples are so apple-perfect. They are the "pick" of the nation's apple crop, grown in the finest apple district in the world—Wenatchee District, Washington.

Here long days of bright sunshine followed by clear cold nights, with a soil that Nature has not excelled anywhere, watered by streams flowing from snow-capped mountains—all cooperate to make Jim Hill Apples irresistible to the eye and satisfying to the taste.

So jealous are we of this extraordinary quality of Jim Hill Apples that we have created our own standards for picking, packing and grading—far more exacting than the stringent rules of the State of Washington.

Buy a dozen Jim Hill Jonathans today. Get them when you go to market or on your way home to-night. Be sure and remember the name—Jim Hill Jonathan.

Eat the right apple at the right time—

Apples delight depends largely upon your eating the right apple at the right time. For example Jim Hill Jonathans are "in season" now during October and November. During the Holiday Season be sure and buy the beautiful Jim Hill Delicious. In January and February look for the Jim Hill Spitzenberg; thereafter, buy the Jim Hill Winesap. Jim Hill Rome Beauties—the baking apple pre-eminent are good any time. We do not pick our apples until their flavor and quality is naturally highest and our superior standards of packing, grading and shipping assure you of these apples reaching you in perfect condition at these times.

CECIL LOSES TO BARNES; WINNER AGAINST ALEXA

Miss Cecil Leitch, Great Britain's super golfer, who since 1914 has held undisputed authority over the woman golfing world, is seen here in the Pelham Country club in the interests of the Radcliffe color endowment fund.

In the morning the famous English player again proved her ability to defeat Miss Alexa Stirling, former holder of the national women's title, as well as the Canadian crown, winning her exhibition match against the Atlanta girl, 2 up. It was the sixth time the two have clashed and the American still has to win her first victory.

Loses to National Open Champ.

It was not until the afternoon that Miss Leitch rose to the heights to which she alone seems capable of soaring. Taking on the national open champion, Jim Barnes, professional at the Pelham club, who conceded her six bisques, the famous visitor forced the local Cornishman to annihilate the course record to win.

The winner of the American crown at Columbia managed to defeat his feminine rival, but it was necessary for him to shoot a 68, six strokes under the difficult par and five strokes under the competitive record for the course, held, until today, by Jack Dowling, the Searleside pro, who now holds the Westchester open title.

Miraculous Shots Common.

For sheer brilliancy like the Leitch-Barnes match has been played this year. Time and time again either Miss Leitch or Long Jim electrified the large gallery that followed them with shots that bordered on the miraculous.

On the first nine holes of the match, even with Barnes out in 26, Miss Leitch, forced to use only two of her bisques, held the open champion on even terms, and, in spite of a bad start at the first hole, at which she took a 7, and an equally bad one at the ninth, where she took a six, the British girl had a 41, only four strokes over par.

Barnes Comes Home in 32.

Over the last nine holes, however, Long Jim started on one of his brilliant rampages, which continued until he had covered the distance in 32 strokes, five under par. Three birdies and one eagle, together with a row of pars, were too much for the English girl. By using a bisque at the tenth for a half and another at the twelfth for a win, she managed to keep even pace with the flying Barnes.

At the thirteenth, an elbow hole, Miss Leitch tried to skin the trees in vain, finally taking a 7 and losing the hole, Barnes winning with a brilliant 4. One up, the Pelham pro slashed out a tremendous drive, going to the 525 yard fourteenth, following it up with a brassie that went straight for the pin and ended its journey only a few yards past. Sinking his rather long putt for an eagle 3 was too much and Miss Leitch, although playing the hole in par, lost it.

Playing the uphill fifteenth, Miss Leitch had to use another bisque to gain a half. Then, at Mount Tom, Barnes' birdie 2 made her use up her last bisque for the half, and he won the long seventeenth, leaving the match 3 and 1.

Purdue Golf Team Beats Michigan by Score of 8-3

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 28.—(Special.)—Purdue defeated Michigan at golf this afternoon by a score of 8 to 3. Byrnes of the Boilermakers' team was low medalist with a score of 77, while Ingham of the Wolverine team was next lowest with a score of 80.

Wheaton Preps Off for Game at Toledo Today

Wheaton High school's football squad of twenty players headed by Coach Charlie Watson left yesterday for Toledo, O., where they will clash with the strong Scott High eleven in an inter-sectional game this afternoon. Wheaton has held the championship of Du Page county since 1916, while Scott claims the championship of Ohio, not having been beaten this season. Capt. Harold Grange is the star of the Wheaton outfit, playing at half back. The team will return to Wheaton Sunday.

The vice president's team, led by A. M. Elrod, defeated the president's squad, captained by Charles E. Hudson, yesterday at Harlem, 18 points to 15, Nassau scoring in the inaugural team championship tournament of the Chicago Municipal Golf club. W. H. Bickett of the winning team had 91 for low gross score, while President Hudson was second with 94. G. K. Wardle of the president's side had 70 for low net, while George Knackstead of the vice president's was second with 73.

In the finals for the club championship title President Hudson won in class A, defeating W. H. Bickett, 6 and 5, at thirty-six holes. John Hamburg won in class B, 4 and 3, against George Knackstead, featuring his effort with a birdie 3 at the winning hole. The deciding contest in class C between Mike Miralga and T. F. Henning is yet to be played.

Flight winners in the Thomas cup competition will play off the finals today at Calumet, while there will also be tournaments for members who have and have not won a trophy during the year.

IN the WAKE of the NEWS

THE SUBSTITUTE'S DREAM.

The score was 3 to 0 with two minutes more to play.

As Podunk college struggled hard and tried to save the day;

But Jones, the demon half back, had been carried off the field.

And 20,000 rosters knew that Podunk's fate was sealed.

The Podunk coach was desperate, he craved to win the game.

His face was green and purple as he barked out some odd names.

Then Jimmie Blake, the substitute, was seen to shed his wraps.

And hope revived in Podunk hearts, for Jimmie Blake—perhaps!

The quarter shrieked his signals, then Jimmie took the ball—

Curled up like a question mark as he smashed the forward wall!

Another smash and Jimmie Blake had hit the line again.

Then men and women screamed with joy, for it was "first and ten."

On down the field swept Jimmie, and then across the line.

His run had won for Podunk—a thrill shot up his spine!

He heard his teammates cheering, he heard the rosters roar!

Then Jimmie Blake awoke and found himself reclining on the floor.

Dear Wake: Wisconsin's big rivals in everything have always been Minnesota, Chicago, and Illinois—we alumni hope to add Michigan to this list from now on. I wonder if your Helpers realize that Wisconsin's percentage in the Big Ten, beginning in 1917 (leaving out 1918 because all schools were hit by the war), until now is:

Wisconsin, 3; Illinois, 1.
Wisconsin, 2; Minnesota, 1.

Add victories over Minnesota and Chicago this year and you have a record similar to our grocer's explanation of his eggs—"not so bad."

FRANKIE SCHAEFFER SHADES KID WAGNER

TRIBUTE DECISIONS

Decisions of Tribune boxing representatives are:

At New York—Sailor Freedman stopped Duke Rice (17) Mickey McCabe beat Philly Belmont (8); Sammy Siegel and Joe Gorman, draw (8); Tony Caponi and Artie Root, draw (8).

At Aurora—Frankie Schaeffer beat Kid Wagner (8). Jimmy Kelly beat Harold Smith (11). George Corbett knocked out Earl Tobin (11). Navy Rostan and Al Hennessy, draw (8). Herbie Schaeffer and Johnnie Hagen, draw (8). Chick McLean knocked out Young Peritt (8).

At Kansas City—Don Gorman beat Earl Olsen (10). Pete Johnson stopped Lee Kelly (11). Jack Varock and Jack Duffy, draw (6). Young MacCue beat Johnny Levin (14).

At Buffalo—Bob Roper knocked out Frank Moran (6).

At Houston, Tex.—Pal Moore beat Frankie Junmatt (12).

At New Orleans—Russell Manier beat Young Marulle (15). Sailor Hennessy and Pat Burke (6).

Aurora, Ill., Oct. 28.—(Special.)—Frankie Schaeffer, Chicago 125 pounder, shaded Eddie Wagner of Philadelphia here tonight in a slashing eight round go.

Wagner, made Schaeffer miss repeatedly, and brought over a right chop with good effect in spots, but he was giving ground throughout the greater part of the fight. A great rally in the tenth round earned the verdict for Schaeffer.

In this session he got his man on the ropes, and although he missed many drives for the jaw, he got in a half dozen hard punches to the body.

In the semi-windup Jimmy Kelly caught a tartar in the stockyards feater, Harold Smith, and only won by the narrowest margin.

Hennessy, 148, Chicago, a new boy to the game, held the veteran Navy Rostan of Joliet to a draw in the first semi-windup.

George Corbett of the stockyards put Earl Tobin away in the first round.

Herbie Schaeffer, 115, and Johnny Hager, fought six hard rounds to a draw. Chick McLean, Chicago, knocked out Young Peritt, Chicago, in the second round.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 28.—An offer of $140,000 for a ten round no decision bout to be held in Minneapolis between Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, and Tom Gibbons of St. Paul was made by Frank McCormick, president of a local boxing club, today.

Officials and Coaches Hold Grid Rules Meeting

Thirty-eight officials and nine football coaches of collegiate and high school teams attended the weekly meeting of the Football Officials' association at the Hotel Randolph last night, at which rules were discussed and uniformity of interpretation decided. The officials plan to codify their interpretations of disputed or uncertain rules.

New York Giants to Train at San Antonio, Texas

New York, Oct. 28.—The New York Giants' baseball champions of the world, will do their spring training in 1922 at their old camp, San Antonio. It was announced today.

Flight winners in the Thomas cup competition will play off the finals today at Calumet, while there will also be tournaments for members who have and have not won a trophy during the year.

The vice president's team, led by A. M. Elrod, defeated the president's squad, captained by Charles E. Hudson, yesterday at Harlem, 18 points to 15, Nassau scoring in the inaugural team championship tournament of the Chicago Municipal Golf club. W. H. Bickett of the winning team had 91 for low gross score, while President Hudson was second with 94. G. K. Wardle of the president's side had 70 for low net, while George Knackstead of the vice president's was second with 73.

In the finals for the club championship title President Hudson won in class A, defeating W. H. Bickett, 6 and 5, at thirty-six holes. John Hamburg won in class B, 4 and 3, against George Knackstead, featuring his effort with a birdie 3 at the winning hole. The deciding contest in class C between Mike Miralga and T. F. Foreign Stars in a Well Produced Foreign Picture

"ONE ARABIAN NIGHT."
Produced and Directed by Ernst Lubitsch.
Presented at the Ziegfeld.

THE CAST:
The Dancer.....Pola Negri
The Hunchback.....Ernest Lubitsch
The Sheikh.....Paul Wegener

By Mae Tine.
This picture, they tell me, was "Sumurun" a long time ago on the stage. The producers, however, thought "One Arabian Night" a better title, so, "One Arabian Night" it is—swift, hot, oriental.

From the standpoint of workmanship there can be no doubt but that the film is immense. The color effects are by Prisma. It is directed and one of the principal roles is taken by the man who made "Passion" what it was. Another part is played by "The Golem"—remember? And Pola Negri—a great actress—is the gypsy dancer who intrigues a sheik. (And a sheik's son, and a hunchback.) Verrily a lady of many and varied affairs.

The tale is a tangled web of love, intrigue, passion, and harem politics, and the players are too good for the story. That is, the story as told in picture form.

Mme. Negri as the dancer is vivid, intense, and, in some scenes, intensely vulgar. Mr. Lubitsch gives a telling account of himself as the hunchback, who loves her and is repulsed by her when she has other lovers, and who loves her last, when she alone is left to care. Mr. Wegener is a sinister appearing sheik, whom any perfectly normal American lady would just as soon be murdered as loved by.

All minor parts are magnificently played. Much attention has been given to staging and costumes. The picture is eight reels long, however, where it should have been condensed into six.

I tell you, "One Arabian Night" is the sort of photoplay that one person simply cannot tell whether another person will like or not. One's temperament will answer the question.

DORIS BLAKE'S ANSWERS

Seventeen.
"Dear Miss Blake: I am a boy 17 years of age and am in love with a pretty girl one year younger. I am in doubt whether she loves me, but I hear from other people that she does. I would like to have you advise me whether it is proper for me to propose to her and how?"

Can you support a wife, Smiddy? That's the main thing expected of a young man when he proposes. But are you not a little hasty? Just fancy plunging into the sea of matrimony at 17. That's a man-size job, Smiddy, so, all things considered, you'd better not propose for a few years yet.

He Has Red Hair.
"Dear Miss Blake: I am a young girl of 26. I am in love with a handsome boy of 19. He was bright red hair and a Roman nose and lots of freckles. In this a sign he has a bad temper? That is what a girl told me. I am afraid she is going to take him from me. Would you advise me how to keep possession of his affection?"

"N. R."

For a young girl of 26 you are, very silly! Very, very silly!

GATHER NAMES FOR TREES ON MEMORY ROAD

Kiwanis Secretary Will Collect Them.

BY LEOLA ALLARD.

Miss Coral Welch of Lake Forest college has been made general secretary for the Kiwanis clubs in their intercity memory tree planting activities. She will accept all suggestions as to names to be placed on the Memory road along which the Kiwanis clubs and the community organizations are to plant trees on Armistice day. Much of the roadway will be planted Nov. 11, and more trees will be placed there in the spring. In a year's time the Kiwanis hope to see the entire Waukegan military road and Sheridan road made into beautiful avenues of remembrance for all the men who served in the late war.

Name Plate Arrangements.

The name plates do not have to be rushed in the making. They can be delivered after Armistice day, and each will cost the American Legion $150. Boulders or cement bases must be secured for these heavy plates. It is hoped $1 a name will be given to cover the cost of placing these markers. That will allow for 240 names to the marker and leave $90 for the base and the setting of the marker, which requires an expert.

Miss Welch will turn over the names to the Legion to secure markers for the Kiwanis planters, or for the mothers of any soldiers who want trees marked on this Chicago to Milwaukee road. Address Miss Welch at Lake Forest college, Lake Forest, Ill.

Governors to Officiate.

At the state line Armistice day ceremony two trees will be placed there by Wisconsin and two by Illinois, the respective governors being present to help with the planting, and Illinois will plant south of that line and Wisconsin north of it. The state line plantings will be held in the afternoon and other planting of trees in each city along the way will be held in the morning.

J. H. Gravenhurst, secretary of the Effingham chamber of commerce, writes that that organization is going to wage a campaign to get memory trees planted along the National Old Trails road from the Missouri to the Indiana state line.

DAILEY BOARD. HITS MORTGAGE BANK METHODS

The methods of mortgage brokers in arriving at the values of properties on which they make and advertise for loans came in for a scolding before the Dailey commission yesterday when it was learned that a south side hotel, which cost $200,000 thirty years ago, was mortgaged for $300,000 and declared to be worth $315,000.

The property was the Kenwood hotel, at Kenwood avenue and East 47th street. Recently $300,000 in bonds were issued on the property, and in advertising the sale of the bonds, the commission was told by K. R. Beak, 194 North Clark street, of the Beak Real Estate company, the firm stated that the bonds had the approval of the Probate court.

"This advertisement is entirely misleading," Joseph E. Fleming, counsel for the commission, told Beak, who was being questioned. "It would make a prospective purchaser think that the entire matter had been thoroughly studied by the court."

M. J. Hool of the Hool Realty company was another who also testified before the commission. He told of raising $275,000 on a bond issue covering property at Irving Park boulevard and Crawford avenue, whose only security other than the structure was a leasehold interest upon which $18,000 annual rental was due.

Hool admitted that the income did not make it a profitable investment for the owner, and that if the ground rent or taxes were not paid the lease would be canceled under its terms.

Lueder Answers Con
Committee Compl

Assurances that many of the in Chicago's postal system cut by the joint congressional committee in its report made public on Thursday were being remedied under the administration of Postmaster Lueder. Lueder was given yesterday by Arthur C. Lueder, master of the new administration, a copy of the report, which has been received a copy of the details complained of. Lueder's report is based on an investigation conducted under his administration. The report, he said, would be discussed the next day in the most general way. Only in the most general way.

Postmaster Promises Action. "Many of these criticisms are justified," he said, "and the others touching upon conditions have been remedied since the time he was in office. The fact is that the new administration is giving them attention."

The citizens of Chicago are assured that we will give the best service possible where we are handicapped by lack of appropriate facilities. There is full and whole operation among the employees. The standard of efficiency of the employees is higher plane now than it was time back and it is being raised higher."

Mr. Lueder declared the conditions at the federal building are greatly improved when the reserve bank has moved into the building now in course of construction on La Salle street, and when the post quarters are transferred to the terminal building now being erected on the west side.

"Everything Possible Being Done." "This may not give us all that we need," he said, "but it will do until new buildings are erected. We are doing everything we can to improve the conditions under which men and women have to work to make things as comfortable as possible without lowering efficiency."

Mr. Lueder said it was not in time that carrier stations be kept until 5 p. m. instead of closing as at present. Substations located in neighboring streets, he explained, take care of the needs in the residential districts in the evenings.

Replies to Criticism. In answer to the criticism that the postal service is given hotel service, he said:

"We have men assigned to routes because we believe it gives the delivery and collection men better service. It gives the hotels that the residents believe that traveling business men have urgent correspondence should reach them at the earliest possible moment."

"It makes no difference to the citizen whether the mail comes at home or arrives on the morning or afternoon delivery. We have few complaints along this line, and are always glad to receive suggestions for the betterment of the service."

NEW POSTOFFICE REGIME TO MEND EXISTING FAULTS

Lueder Answers Congress Committee Complaint.

Assurances that many of the faults in Chicago's postal system complained of by the joint congressional committee in its report made public at Washington on Thursday were being or would be remedied under the business administration of Postmaster General Lueder were given yesterday by Postmaster Arthur C. Lueder.

Mr. Lueder took office less than a month ago and has not had time in which to familiarize himself with all of the details complained of. Neither has he received a copy of the committee's report, which is based upon an investigation conducted under the previous administration. Therefore, he explained, he could discuss the criticisms only in the most general way.

Postmaster Promises Action.

"Many of these criticisms no doubt are justified," he said, "and there are others touching upon conditions which have been remedied since the inquiry was made or are being taken up as part of the new administration is able to give them attention."

"The citizens of Chicago can rest assured that we will give them the best service possible where we are not handicapped by lack of appropriations. There is full and whole souled cooperation among the employees to this end. The standard of efficiency and intelligence of the employees is on a higher plane now than it was some time back and it is being raised still higher."

Mr. Lueder declared the crowded conditions at the federal building were greatly improved when the federal nerve bank has moved into the building now in course of construction in La Salle street, and when the parcels post quarters are transferred to the terminal building now being erected on the west side.

"Anything Possible Being Done."

"This may not give us all the room we need," he said, "but it will have to do until new buildings are erected. We are doing everything we can to improve the conditions under which our men and women have to work, and we are making things as comfortable for them as possible without lowering the efficiency."

Mr. Lueder said it was not imperative that carrier stations be kept open until 8 p. m. instead of closing at 6 as at present.

Substations located in neighborhood areas, he explained, take care of the needs of the residents in districts in the evenings.

Replies to Criticism.

In answer to the criticism that professional service is given hotels, he said:

"We have men assigned to the hotel routes because we believe it expedites the delivery and collections. We believe there should be better service from the hotels than the residence districts because traveling business men often have urgent correspondence that should reach them at the earliest possible moment."

"It makes no difference to the average citizen whether the mail he receives at home arrives on the morning or afternoon delivery. We have had few complaints along this line, but we are always glad to receive suggestions for the betterment of the service."

$14,276,635 LEFT BY MRS. PALMER, REPORT SHOWS

An estate of $14,276,635 was left by the late Mrs. Bertha Honoré Palmer, widow of Potter Palmer and Chicago's first social dictator, when she died on May 1, 1918. The first account of the executor of her estate was approved yesterday by Philip J. Flanneghan, assistant to Probate Judge Henry Horner.

The largest item of receipts was $2,074,473, received from the United States as a refund on the estate's income tax. In addition there is pending a contest on the payment of $107,423 to the state of Illinois.

Other items totaling $12,294 were submitted by the estate's attorneys, Winston, Brown & Shaw. Twenty-five thousand dollars of a $100,000 gift to the United Charities has been paid. A son, Judith Nelson, received $1,000, and $100,000 was given to two maids, Emma Carlson and Pauline Weaver.

County Jail Visitors Caught in Police Roundup

Visitors' day at the county jail was a success from the police standpoint yesterday. In their roundup of suspicious characters the police seized twenty-five men who had come to the jail to visit friends incarcerated there.

WEDDED AGAIN

MRS. ANDREW L. MACKENZIE.

FRIENDS of Mrs. Lella Lynch Stevens, formerly wife of John F. Stevens, Jr., son of John F. Stevens, the Panama canal builder, were surprised yesterday to learn that she was married more than a month ago to Andrew L. MacKenzie. Their marriage ten years ago of Lella Lynch to young Stevens was a social event of the season. A few years later they separated and she was granted a divorce last April.

CHICAGO'S MEAT AND ART "FINE," VENIZELOS SAYS

Sings Two-Word Poem, That's All.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES.

A taxi ride; half an hour's wait in a law office; three telephone calls; another taxi ride; a hotel lobby conference; up to the fourth floor of the Blackstone hotel; whispered and contradictory conversations with secretaries; timid knocks at unyielding doors; down a corridor past hundreds of baskets of flowers and one pair of men's black shoes; an introduction; a petition, an ultimatum—and the interviewless interview was concluded with Eleutherios Venizelos, former premier of Greece, who, with his bride, is spending a few days in America's largest Greek city.

Audience, but No Interview.

Genuine, sincerely modest and quietly insistent, the "Greek savior" sat reading a ridiculously slender volume after a busy day at the stockyards.

Disarmament; the league of nations; cancellation of the war debt; he not only refused to discuss any of them, but was equally reticent upon the subject of women, Chicago, suffrage and baseball.

"I cannot be interviewed," said Mr. Venizelos, and the diplomat glanced toward the door as if he meant what he said.

"Chicago? I have not seen much of it. I find it charming."

Praises Art and Industry.

The art institute and the stockyards; they are "poor old," or "very fine," according to our guest.

"Marvellous" is the way a spiritual descendant of Grecian culture and beauty describes the art institute.

"Interesting" is the way an international financier describes the mechanism of our money making meat packing industry.

In reply to the suggestion that Mrs. Venizelos be interviewed, the Greek statesman played with his wedding ring as he said: "I refuse; my wife would refuse because I refuse," and an old world bridegroom bowed adieu.

Mr. and Mrs. Venizelos leave Sunday for California to spend the winter.

Child, 3, Killed by Truck; Man, 71, Slain by Auto

Alfred Klein, 3 years old, 2113 North Kilpatrick avenue, was killed yesterday when he was struck by a coal truck driven by John Gaborek, 3800 Diversey avenue.

John Wiley, 71 years old, 7142 Parson avenue, was struck at 67th street and Stewart avenue by an automobile said to have been driven by John M. Fields, 6357 Drexel avenue. The automobile did not stop. Fields' car was wrecked a few minutes later. He was arrested and was identified by Wiley. Wiley died early this morning.

PUNCTURED TIRE ENDS CAREER OF BOLD BOY THIEF

Lucky Shot Stops Robber of Twenty Women.

For several hours yesterday a boy robber kept the Hyde Park police on the jump while he robbed at least twenty women. He was captured only after a squad of police had emptied their revolvers at him and a lucky shot had punctured a tire of the stolen auto.

"Mr. MacKenzie is ill and may have to undergo an operation," Mrs. MacKenzie said last night. "So I decided to marry him before that took place."

THAT GUILTIEST FEELING

HER PHANTOM LOVER

BY ELIZABETH YORK MILLER

INSTALLMENT XXX.

DORIA SENDS PHIL AWAY.

"Tonight your friend Barry gave himself the pleasure of telling me what he thought of me and of my work. I returned the compliment. He's in love with you, Doria."

"No, of course he didn't, but I'm not altogether a fool. He had the cheek to tell me that I'm getting you talked about. Fancy, a perfect stranger saying a thing like that!"

"Doria's eyes glittered with anger for Ronald."

"Mr. Barry isn't such a stranger," she managed to say. "Before he went to America, he was sort of associated with old Lord Westhaven. Mr. Drake has known him for twenty years or so."

"And how long have you known him?" Philip demanded hotly. "I thought you only met him the night of your ball. You fainted, if you remember. You were curious that night. Doria, you began to change towards me from that time."

"How you imagine things! I wish you wouldn't bore me eternally with such dark suspicions, Philip!"

"Suspicions? They are facts. That man is after you. He's got his eye on Westhaven's kitchen back of Mrs. Crouch's shop, was a great success as far as outward appearances went. The wine certainly helped to make things go with a spin."

"I didn't know you ever drank anything," said Letty, as Mrs. Crouch allowed Pietro to refill her glass.

Mrs. Crouch's dimples were much in evidence that evening.

"I used to be very fond of champagne," she said. "O, yes, mother always has her pint of the bubbly. That's where the money goes."

"My brother has left me a whole cellarful of this excellent wine," Pietro Noni said, with a cunning smile at the buxom little widow. "It was for his private use. When I go to my castle I shall begin to drink it. I hope not to enjoy myself alone."

Mrs. Crouch sighed again and allowed Pietro to hold her hand right before Letty and Andrew.

"I should miss the shop. And, of course, there's Andrew. What would he do without me? No, no, Mr. Noni, I dare not allow myself to contemplate such happiness. Besides, Italy is so far away."

"O, come," urged the titled wood carver, "Andrew is a fine, strapping fellow. He will be getting married himself one of these days. Eh, Andrew?"

Pietro winked and jerked his thumb in Letty's direction. "Naughty!" exclaimed Letty, giving him a playful slap. "It's unlikely I shall ever marry," said Andrew, a little haughtily.

Pietro needn't try to make matrimonial plans for him as well as for his mother.

TRACTION LINES SAY OPERATIONS COST MORE HERE

Day's Hearing Favorable to Companies.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

To the sincere friends of a 5 cent carfare—and THE TRIBUNE believes that a nickel fare would be of substantial benefit to Chicago—the hearing yesterday before the Illinois commerce commission was not encouraging. It was the companies' day. There was no cross-examination nor was opposing testimony presented.

Joseph V. Sullivan, assistant to the president of the surface lines, contradicted directly and flatly an important statement of George W. Jackson, engineer for the city. Jackson claims that the lines can be efficiently operated at $2.40 per car hour. He has recommended a plan of operation to gain that low cost. In support of the $2.40 per car hour he cited the experience of the municipal line of San Francisco. That, he said, operated at $1.95 per car hour.

"Costs Frisco $2.31 An Hour."

"I have a telegram from the San Francisco municipal lines showing that the cost is $3.51," testified Sullivan. "That cost per car hour on a comparable basis with Chicago would be $3.51."

As against Mr. Jackson's estimate of $2.40, the actual cost in Chicago last year was $3.16. As the result of a wage increase, it is $3.38 in the first seven months of this year. The wages alone have amounted to $2.31 per car hour.

While the hearing was going full speed ahead George B. Gillespie came in. The proceedings were stopped, and Mr. Gillespie conferred for five minutes with Chester E. Cleveland Sr., special attorney for the city. Gillespie is a Springfield lawyer, who has been special traction counsel for the city and is now employed by Gov. Small in his legal defense against the indictment charging embezzlement of funds of the state treasurer's office.

All Cited Costs Beat Chicago's.

Sullivan presented an exhibit showing the expense per car hour in other cities. This gave the cost of the New York surface railways as $4.05, the Third Avenue system of New York $3.69, St. Louis $3.42, Kansas City $3.84, Milwaukee $3.43, Philadelphia $3.27, Boston $3.80, Detroit $3.73, Minneapolis $3.69, and Buffalo $3.34.

To obtain an operating cost of $2.40 per hour Jackson recommended as one factor a speeding up of the cars outside of the loop to thirteen miles an hour. Sullivan testified that in eleven cities no such speed has been obtained. He said the average speed on the Chicago surface lines is 10.64 miles per hour.

During the rush hours in Cleveland, he testified, the average speed is 10.52 miles and after 8 o'clock at night it is 10.38 miles. On the municipal line of San Francisco he said the day speed varies from 9.4 miles to 11.2 miles, after 8 o'clock in the evening it is increased to 12.1 miles and that the "owl" cars vary from 11 to 14 miles an hour.

Gives Other Speed Figures.

He gave the Boston surface rate as 10.5 miles, Washington as 10.21 miles, privately owned lines of San Francisco as 10.15 miles, Cincinnati as 9.94 miles, Buffalo as 9.95 miles, Brooklyn surface as 9.63 miles, and Pittsburgh surface as 9.42 miles. Including the layover time New York surface lines were credited with making one 6.8 mile per hour. To the Philadelphia surface was given 10 miles, Milwaukee 10.12, and St. Louis was credited with 10.9 miles in the day time and 10.55 miles at night.

Harvey Fleming, chief engineer of the surface lines, estimated that the Jackson plan of rearranging tracks in the loop would not only cost in excess of $1,400,000, with a salvage of less than $200,000, but would destroy property which cost between $2,000,000 and $2,200,000.

FARM AND GARDEN BY FRANK RIDGWAY

WINTER CARE OF OUTDOOR FLOWER GARDEN.

Flower gardeners have to pay as much attention to the upkeep of soil fertility in their beds and borders as vegetable gardeners do. The best time and the cheapest way to do it is in the fall, when manure can be spread over the beds after the annuals have been removed. Coarse material left on the beds in the spring will have to be removed.

In getting manure for annual beds it is well to provide a sufficient quantity for mulching perennials later in the season. Manure around the base of perennials protect the plants. It is probably best not to mulch perennials until about the time freeze begins. Coarse material with a liberal supply of fine particles of manure makes a good mulch because it is much easier to weigh down to prevent it from blowing or washing away.

It is not advisable to spread a thick layer around perennial plants early in the fall when the crowns of the plants are still green. It may be spread close to the crowns without injuring them, but should not touch.

Mulches are particularly valuable when spread around perennials, which are heavy feeders and use up plant food so rapidly that the soil needs to be refertilized every year.

Manure should not be used in mulching bulb beds. Bulbs, however, need to be mulched in some cases, especially in heavy soil, where there is danger of their being thrown out by alternate freezing and thawing. It is safe to mulch bulbs with leaves. Straw may be used, but some object to it because it is difficult to weigh down. The material used in mulching bulbs must be raked off in the spring before the bulbs start growing and break through the ground.

GRAINS GO UP ON BULLISH NEWS; CLOSE AT THE TOP

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

A broadening of the trade in wheat came at the last and the close was at 2 1/2¢ for all grades with gains of 1/4¢ on wheat, 1/4¢ on corn, 1/4¢ on oats, and 1/4¢ on rye.

During the early part of the day business was light and local traders overtook on the break. They covered later owing to the circulation of bullish news when the largest business was on. Sentiment became more bullish at the last and selling pressure was light. There was free buying toward the last, attributed to some of the leading local professionals.

Important factors that stood out above all the news and which counted strongly in favor of a better market was the settlement of the threatened rail strike and the advance of 3¢ to 3 1/2¢ in Minneapolis futures, combined with the good demand for cash wheat there, with the total northwestern arrivals 675 cars, compared with 690 cars a week ago and 732 cars last year.

December was down to 11 1/2¢, and May to 11 1/4¢ at the inside, with advance of 2 1/2¢ to 3¢ at the last and a close of 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ on the top.

Corn Advances with Wheat.

Corn acted oversold and, although there was no heavy individual buying, strength in wheat started a covering movement which ended in an advance of over 1¢ and a stronger close at 48¢ to 49¢ for December and 54¢ to 55¢ for May.

Commission houses buying of oats was attributed to a strong local operator who took the market's surplus and caused general buying, with an advance of 1¢ and a firm close. Elevator interests were changing both ways from December to May at 4¢ to 4 1/2¢ difference, local interests selling December freely.

Cash Interests Buy Hard.

October and November were wanted by cash interests and closed 6¢ higher, while other months were 2¢ to 3¢ higher. Commission houses bought May and present all around was not large. Export business was liberal, but the quantity sold was not given out. One house sold 250,000 lbs. Hogs were lower. Prices follow.

Don't Miss One of These Great Features

"How Dry I Am!"

Do you know what thirst is? No, not what you think—not thirst for the things Mr. Volstead deprived us of, but REAL thirst.

Very few people know what causes thirst, or how the body is affected when it is deprived of water. It is important that everyone should know.

An able scientific analysis of thirst will appear today in "The American Home Journal," the magazine section of The Chicago Evening American. It is written simply, so that everybody can understand it.

Even teetotalers should read this article, for it tells them the importance of water to the human system in an entirely new fashion.

In Today's Evening American

Peggy Hopkins "Is In Again"

Now She's Turned the Head of France's Most Famous Resort

The story goes that wives of American millionaires were thrown into a panic when pretty Peggy arrived at Deauville for the season.

They immediately became so attentive to their husbands that the famous American super-chorus girl who has had three millionaire husbands found herself much in her own company.

And they "cut her dead" to boot!

Read this story of the famous seaside resort where millions of francs change hands every season, and where the fashionables of Europe disport themselves in excessive pleasures.

Other Great Features

Potash & Perlmutter, the irresistible humorists, talk about music. "If Josef Hoffmann would play on my piano like he plays on the piano in Orchestra Hall, I wouldn't want to insult him, but I would get to remind him that a $500 piano ain't no armored tank." And more of it.

Four Pages of Sport News. "Chicago's most complete sports section" is what well informed lovers of sports call this famous Saturday feature. Look at it yourself today and you will agree.

"All the News—First if Possible, Accurate Always." A complete news section covering every phase of local, national and world news.

In Today's Evening American

The Gentle Art of Kissing

Everybody has heard of the boastful swain who said that "when he kissed 'em they stayed kissed for an hour!"

Now comes along a man who wins the world's championship at the kissing game!

What's your style? Catch-as-Catch-Can? Greco-Roman? Or have you any style?

You need one! So read this story. Maybe it will teach you something new—maybe it won't. But at any rate it will give you the recipe of the world's champion kisser—and that's something.

In Today's Evening American

Mme. Francis, Fashion Creator

This week she tells of the three-piece costume and how they permit the introduction of new and brilliant combinations of wonderful fabrics.

Here, for example, is her fashion forecast:

"Splashes of bright color, such as cerise and emerald green, will be strikingly revealed on the black gown for Winter.

No matter how much you know of fashions, these articles by a famous creator of fashions are certain to be helpful, for they go into minute detail in their explanation of the modes of the hour.

In Today's Evening American

Galli-Curci's Chicago Conquest

In this installment of Luigi Curci's fascinating story of the life of his former wife, he covers the events leading up to her triumph in Rigoletto, when her "Caro Nome" held the great auditorium spellbound.

Each new chapter adds to the charm of this simple story of love and devotion to art and the unusual parts played in the shaping of a career by the artist-husband of the great soprano.

You will know Galli-Curci better when you read this story. You will be entranced by its simplicity, charm and romance.
